JOSEPH BRECK & SONS
Spring blooming bulb gardens are today among the most gorgeous displays of the whole gardening year because striking and artistic mass effects can so easily be secured by making plantings of bulbs in carefully selected shades in conjunction with flowering shrubs and early blooming perennials. Interest in bulb growing is very clearly increasing each year and our bulbs that are grown in various parts of the world by leading bulb specialists are annually represented as prize winners in all of the leading Horticultural Society and Garden Club Shows held in the eastern part of this country.

We take great pleasure, therefore, in presenting to you our 1929 bulb catalog in which you will find listed all of the varieties of spring blooming bulbs used in our most notable exhibit of the year, the prize winning “Bulb Garden,” at the Centennial Show of the Massachusetts Horticultural Society.
BRECK’S AUTUMN CATALOGUE, 1929

NARCISSUS or DAFFODILS

American growers of Narcissus bulbs have now proved most conclusively that bulbs grown in this country are a success and that they may be fully relied on from the standpoint of flowering qualities as well as being free from disease.

We have, therefore, added to and enlarged our list of the newer and also standard varieties which have proven successful in our trials. The following list may be considered both complete and up-to-date, as it embodies varieties that can be grown with perfect success by the amateur and the professional alike.

LARGE TRUMPET NARCISSUS

Christmas Glory. Very early primrose. Each Doz. 100 trumpet, creamy perianth. $0.25 $2.50 $18.00

Emperor. Flowers of great size and substance; trumpet clear golden yellow, with broad, delicate, primrose perianth. .25 2.50 18.00

Empress. Immense golden yellow trumpet, with a broad white perianth of great substance; forces well. .25 2.50 18.00

Glory of Sassenheim. An enlarged Bi-color Victoria. .20 2.00 15.00

Golden Spur. The entire flower a rich deep yellow and very large; one of the most popular trumpet sorts, used largely by florists. We recommend the mammoth bulbs for house culture. .25 2.50 18.00

Herbert Smith. Deep yellow trumpet, large light yellow perianth of fine substance. .35 3.50 25.00

King Alfred. Golden yellow perianth, beautiful form with deeply frilled mouth. .40 4.00 28.00

Madame Plemp. Large flowered golden yellow trumpet, twisted perianth. .25 2.50 18.00

Olympia. The trumpet is yellow with a perianth of slightly paler shade, the flower is much larger in size than Emperor and besides being very effective for potwork. .30 3.00 20.00

CULTURAL DIRECTIONS

With few exceptions the Narcissus are hardy and strong, growing under ordinary cultivation. The bunch-flowered or Polyanthus sorts, however, should not be trusted to the border.

Outdoor Culture. The Daffodil will grow in any ordinary garden soil and in almost any situation, but prefers moderately stiff, well-drained soil, in situations slightly shaded, such as the herbaceous border and the margins of flower-beds, along the outside edges of shrubberies, on woodland walks, and on the margins of lakes and streams, or for naturalizing in the grass or woodland.

Planting may be done in the Autumn any time before frost sets in, October being the usual month for setting out. Once planted they should not be disturbed further than dividing and resetting in August once in three or four years, when they get too crowded.

Pot Culture. At the head of the list stands the Polyanthus Narcissus, with its large bunches of fragrant flowers.

For culture, the hints given under Hyacinths may be followed. One very important point is to keep them cool for the first four or five weeks when they are commencing to grow. After the roots are grown and the tops well started, they may be pushed forward more quickly in heat.

Pebbles, Bulb Fibre, and Fancy Bowls

The growing of bulbs in pebbles or fibre for house decoration, especially the several varieties of Polyanthus Narcissus, has become so universal that we are carrying a special line of the more inexpensive Ornamental Dishes and Bowls for indoor bulb culture.

We also carry specially selected bulb-fibre and pebbles as this method of growing bulbs is becoming increasingly popular. For Fibre and Pebbles see page 30.
DARWIN TULIPS

We strongly recommend this class of Tulips for garden decoration in beds, as well as in groups in the herbaceous border and amongst shrubs. Grown for cut flowers, they will prove very valuable at a time when flowering plants are scarce. They flower during the middle part of May, a period when spring flowers are over and summer flowers such as Roses have not yet come in. The blooms last in condition a very long time. By forcing in pots they may be had in bloom in February or even earlier. The list of varieties we offer below has been carefully selected and includes all the exquisite and new varieties.

BREEDER TULIPS

Breeders are the unbroken form of the old Florist Tulips. Most of the varieties are purple, maroon, or terracotta coloured. They are of enormous size and vigorous growth. These tulips are very valuable for the garden, producing by their refined colours a most artistic effect. They should be treated like Darwin Tulips, but will not stand severe forcing.

BRECK’S RADIO GARDEN TALKS

The Radio public have so unmistakably registered their approval of the Breck’s Radio Garden Talks that an unbroken year-around schedule has been arranged, and, unless circumstances over which we have no control make a change of broadcasting hour necessary, Breck’s Radio Garden Talks will continue to be heard each Sunday evening at 7:30 P.M. from station WEEI, Boston. These radio broadcasts are given in the interest of better gardening and as a helpful service to amateur gardeners in New England. Join Breck’s Radio Garden Club! To do so, just tune in at 7:30 P.M. each Sunday evening, and remember,

"Breck’s Seeds are Tested."
SINGLE LATE or COTTAGE TULIPS

These usually come into flower after the middle of May and are in their greatest perfection about Memorial Day; many of these are very fragrant. For grouping in mixed shrubbery and in front of borders as well as for planting in beds, either alone, or with tall, double flowering, late blooming sorts, they are unequalled.

"You can have bulbs in bloom throughout the entire year"

A New Book

THE BOOK OF BULBS

by F. F. Rockwell, (Illustrated) $3.00

(Postpaid) 3.15
SINGLE EARLY TULIPS

All Single Early Tulips are suitable for pot culture. The Duc Van Thol Tulips are the earliest, especially suitable for growing indoors. The selection we offer below is made up of the finest bulbs of the best varieties and should give the utmost satisfaction.

CULTURE IN POTS OR FLATS:—Use ordinary garden soil, set three bulbs in a five-inch pot, or a dozen bulbs in a ten- or twelve-inch flat or pan; have the top of the bulb just even with the surface of the soil; after watering thoroughly, plunge the pots in a cold-frame or set in the cellar and cover with coal ashes or sand. They may be brought into the house for forcing about the middle of December, and thereafter at intervals of two weeks, for a succession. With plenty of light, water, and air they will begin to bloom in about six weeks in the ordinary living-room.

Denotes varieties which we can especially recommend.

DUC VAN THOL

Price: 85 cts. per doz.; $6.00 per 100; $55.00 per 1000

The Rembrandt Tulip comprises a strain of variegated Darwin Tulips. Usually delicate shades with flames or stripes of a darker shade and forming lovely combinations which appeal to the refined taste of many people. Some varieties can be forced to the end of February, but the flowers are not quite so large as the Darwins.

Caracalla. Fiery scarlet and white.

Gretchen. Light pink feathered pink.

Pierette. Lilac on a white ground, purple feathered.

Semele. White with pink feathering.

Suzanna. Reddish brown on soft lilac flamed white.

Victor Hugo. White feathered brilliant carmine red.

CHOICE MIXTURE of all the above varieties.

TULIP SPECIES
The cultivation of these tulips is very simple. They thrive in the ordinary soil of the rock garden, provided it is well drained (as of course it always should be), for Tulips are decidedly averse to having damp feet. There is no need to lift the bulbs after flowering season, for they seem to thrive and increase if left in the ground year in and year out.

Hyacinths are among the most popular, beautiful, and fragrant of Holland bulbs. They show almost every imaginable shade of colour, and are suitable alike for house or garden culture.

CULTURAL DIRECTIONS

Pot Culture:—Plantings may be made at any time from September to December, though October is the best time. A light, rich soil enriched with Breck’s Poultry Manure, sand, and leaf mould is most suitable; use a five-inch pot and have the top of the bulb just below the surface of the soil. After setting the bulb, thoroughly firm the soil and give it a good watering. The pots should then be set away in a cool cellar or out-house and covered over with coal ashes or some litter. When well rooted, which will be in about twelve weeks, they may then be brought as wanted for a succession of flowers into a moderately warm, light room and forced. To keep the foliage dwarf and obtain fine large flower spikes, Hyacinths, when being forced, should have plenty of manure, water, and fresh air and should be kept near the glass.

Culture in Glasses:—When it is desired to grow Hyacinths in water, they should be placed so that the base of the bulb merely touches the water. The glasses should then be set in a cool, dark closet or in the cellar until nearly filled with roots, when they may be brought into the light. Change the water frequently. Give as much fresh air as possible without letting the plants stand in a draught. It is of importance in growing Hyacinths in the house that the atmosphere in which the plants are growing be kept moist, and as nearly as possible at a temperature of from 65 to 70 degrees.

Outdoor Culture:—The bulbs may be planted in beds any time after the beginning of October and before the Winter frosts set in. Any good, well-drained garden soil will answer. Set the bulbs from four to five inches below the surface, and about six inches apart; after the ground becomes frozen, give them a good covering of stable litter.

MINIATURE HYACINTHS or DUTCH-ROMANS

Prices: 15 cents each; $1.50 per doz.; $10.00 per 100

Miniature Hyacinths are not appreciated by the public, probably owing to the rather deceiving name. Yet there is hardly anything more fascinating than a well-grown pan of Miniatures. The spikes are slender, yet well provided with flower bells; the symmetry of the individual plants is indeed remarkable.

Gertrude. Rosy pink, forces well.
L’Innocence. Pure white.
Perle Brillant. Pale blue, large bells, splendid forcer.
Rol des Belges. Fine deep crimson.
Yellow Hammer. Pure yellow.

EARLY FRENCH-ROMAN HYACINTHS

(For indoor planting only)

These early flowering and easily forced bulbs are general favourites. Successive plantings can be made and a continuance of bloom obtained from November to May. The flowers of these Hyacinths are smaller than the Dutch type, but each bulb should produce from two to three spikes of flowers. Each Doz. 100

CROCUS—Spring Flowering

Plant during September and October, in clumps or masses, three inches deep. If planted along the border of the lawn they can be combined with Snowdrops, Scillas, Daffodils, etc. They are perfectly hardy and may remain in the ground undisturbed for years. Crocuses are easily forced. They should be planted very thickly in pots filled with good light soil not too much packed down. The top of the bulb should be just below the surface.

COLCHICUM (Meadow Saffron)

Autumn Flowering

A hardy border bulbous-rooted plant. The flowers come up through the ground without leaves in the Autumn and closely resemble those of the Crocus. The leaves do not appear until the following Spring. Colchicums are most effective in masses in the grass or in Rockeries. As novelties, they may be grown in fancy bowls with pebbles or our prepared bulb fibre.

Directions for Growing

LILIES OF THE VALLEY IN BOWLS
Without Drainage in the Dwelling House

In growing Lilies of the Valley it is well to force them in a warm, dark place until 3 inches high (75 to 80°). Then bring them into a cool light window (65 degrees) and when actually coming into bloom put the bowl in as cool a place as possible at night, to prolong the flowering period. Don't overwater. Keep surface moss just damp at all times. Drain off excess water.

We guarantee the safe arrival of all Lily of the Valley Shipments. Standard Bowls of Liberty Bells, planted and ready to grow, are packed in special basket containers that materially add to the attractiveness of the gift when sent to a friend. Be sure and include personal greeting cards with all orders for gift shipments.

Lilies are among the most beautiful and ornamental of cultivated bulbous plants, and their stately habit and variously-coloured flowers (which are in many cases, highly perfumed) render them indispensable subjects for greenhouse decoration and for the hardy flower garden.

The commoner and more plentiful species may be effectively employed for grouping or naturalizing. Many of them are excellent for border plants when in flower, being extremely attractive in mixed arrangements, if properly placed in respect to height. Many of the strong-growing Lilies are well adapted to planting among shrubs, where the latter are not too thickly placed. By growing a selection of species in pots to flower at different times, a valuable addition to greenhouse decoration is secured over a long period in Autumn and Winter. In the hardy border Lilies should always be planted not less than three in a clump thus **

AURATUM. (Golden Banded Lily of Japan.) Immense fragrant flowers of pure white each petal of which is marked with a broad, golden yellow, central band and thickly dotted with reddish brown spots. Lilies for FORCING

Most of the varieties of Lilies recommended for outdoor culture, are also suitable for forcing and growing along in pots. The following varieties give a rotation of bloom during the Winter and Spring months:

- Candidum, Auratum, Regal, Speciosum, Elegans, Henryi, and many others.

The tender Lilies such as Harrisii usually available in August, Formosum and Candidum obtainable in September and Giganteum in October or November, are particularly recommended to the beginner, as they make considerable growth before freezing weather.

CULTURAL DIRECTIONS

Most varieties of Lilies do well when grown comparatively cool. Moderate watering is necessary until the pots are nicely filled with roots, then an ample supply of water is needed. As Lilies make all their best roots from the tops and not the base or bottom of the bulb, it is an advantage to start them in 4-inch pots later shifting and burying the bulb deeper in 6 inch pots. After potting plunge the pots level to the rim in ashes in a frame or cool cellar. As freezing weather approaches fill around the pots with leaves or litter.

When leaves or litter are removed the pots are set in a cool, airy place, such as a frame out of doors or a cool cellar. As freezing weather approaches fill around the pots with leaves or litter.

FALL PLANTING SUGGESTIONS

Fall planting avoids the bustle and congestion of early spring work, and assures a growing-season of normal length for the newly set-out plants next year. The foregoing pages carry a condensed list of hardy flowers for autumn planting, a more complete assortment of which are found in our General Catalogue. If you have not this fine big book, let us send you a copy now. Please note the following:

TREES AND SHRUBS. Many trees, and most flowering shrubs, can be planted in the Fall with complete safety. They are ready the last of September, and can be transplanted as late as the ground is free from frost.

EVERGREENS are in good condition for transplanting from the middle of August through October,—some varieties still later. Water them liberally.

ROSES. In October and November hardy Roses (both bush and climbing varieties) can be planted with marked success. Set them deep, water them liberally, and hill the earth up around them before freezing weather sets in; this, with the usual winter mulch of straw or dry leaves, will bring them through the winter safely.

WATERING IN LATE FALL, particularly in the case of evergreens, will do much to prevent winter-killing. Most winter damage is caused by rapid penetration of frost into dry, porous soil.

WINTER COVERING of perennials and other small plants should be applied after the ground is frozen. A coarse, dry material is better than one which cakes hard when wet.

Realizing the increasing interest in House plants and knowing the wonderful results attained in this form of gardening by those who really make a study of it we have established a Special Department featuring House plants and everything pertaining to their culture.

At Christmas and Easter we will have a large assortment of flowering and foliage plants in the store (see page 19) and at other times we will accept orders for any size or type of plant either that we grow ourselves in Lexington or that we obtain from other selected growers who specialize in the growing of certain types of plants. Shipments will be made direct from the greenhouses insuring perfect satisfaction to our customers.

We believe that a house plant department will prove to be a welcome innovation to all those who enjoy window gardening and on this and the following page we list everything commonly required in the successful culture of pot plants in the dwelling house. We hope that our customers will feel at liberty to call on us for help and advice at any time. Phone Hubbard 1662 and ask for the House Plant Department.

SEASONABLE FORAGE & COVER CROPS

ROSEN RYE
Plant Rosen Rye to get 30 to 50 Per Cent Increased Yield
Rye cross-breeds like Corn. In this respect it differs from wheat, which will not cross fertilize if two or more kinds are grown together for years. To keep a pure Rye pure, it should be grown away from a common Rye.
Rosen Rye was selected and bred from a Russian Rye, the selection beginning in 1909 in this country by a Russian by the name of Rosen. The new Rosen Rye is a large headed variety which, when pure has four full rows of grains. Farmers who have grown Rye know that 15 to 20 bushels per acre is about what they can expect. Such farmers who changed to the Rosen Rye are now getting 25 to 30 bushels, and 40 to 50 bushels yields are not uncommon.
Price $3.00 per bu.; per bag of 2 bu., $5.00—bags extra. (Special price on larger quantities)

PEAT MULL

BEST GRADE FINE GROUND GERMAN MULL

Recommended especially for improving the physical condition of soils in lawns, flower beds, green house benches, hot beds, cold frames and potting soil. Especially recommended as a mulch for all broad-leaved Evergreens, Rhododendrons and Azaleas.

Our Peat Moss or Mull is supplied in compressed bales of about 12 cubic feet each and covered with burlap to insure the bales arriving in good condition without loss of Mull in transit. Weight about 165 lbs., bales are uniform in size.

DUBOIS FENCES

In France, in Italy, and in England, the natural beauties of the landscape are enhanced a thousandfold by the correct use of such charming fences as Dubois Woven Wood Fence, Cleft Chestnut Fence, and English Hurdle Fencing. The value of natural wood fences is actually beginning to be appreciated in this country, and here and there throughout our New England countryside, one sees the soft silver gray setting of a natural wood fence greatly adding to the beauty of small and large gardens alike.

Dubois Fences are made by hand in France of split live chestnut saplings closely woven together and bound to horizontal braces with heavy, rust-proof copper-weld wire. They come to you in 5-foot sections either 3' 10"; 4' 11" or 6' 6" high. A Dubois Woven Wood Fence is all ready to erect as soon as your posts are in place. We can supply posts and rails if desired.

Many people have found that the Autumn is an ideal time for the erection of a fence and we recommend this thought to all who are contemplating such construction.

HOW DUBOIS MAY BE USED

Hundreds of applications of this sturdy fence have been made since it was first brought to this country several years ago, among which may be mentioned:

Background for Planting
Division Fences
Screening Compost
Heaps, Driveways, Laundry Yards, and Service Yards.

Wind Breaks
Winter Protection for New Planting
Apartment Roof Gardens.

We also carry Reeveshire Hurdle Fencing and Cleft Chestnut Fencing. All types are on display at 85 State St. Send for our illustrated portfolios showing installations.

HABITANT FENCES

In Canada, the small rural proprietor, or resident of French descent, is called “habitant.” If you are a true lover of the woods, here is a type of fence which will instantly appeal to you. It is the “Habitant,” appropriately so named because it preserves the quaint, rustic appearance that it brings from the great forests of Northern Michigan.

Habitant Fencing is selected Michigan cedar—sometimes called “the Wood of Durability,” because it is unaffected by climatic changes. The dark, silver gray tones taken on by this cedar with the passing of time make these fences particularly beautiful. Whole saplings form the pickets in some; in others half saplings are used.

Habitant Fences come conveniently packed in complete section units, including posts and can be quickly erected or taken down if necessary. Common labor only is required—all carpenter work is done in advance.

Inasmuch as Habitant Fences come in eleven styles, we urge all those considering the erection of a fence, to visit our store at State Street, where samples of all types are on display.

Customers, if possible, should bring in with them or send in to us, a rough sketch of ground plan, with measurements, and we can then advise relative to the proper type of fence and give an accurate estimate of the cost thereof.

Stock sizes of Habitant Fences range in height from 2' 6" to 6' 4" and prices range from 32c. per foot to $2.30 per foot, F. O. B., Michigan.
